PARISH PLAN

INTRODUCTION & METHODOLOGY

Todwick's Parish Plan is a document which captures how the local community sees itself now and how it could develop itself over the next few years. This latest Plan has concentrated on the following themes:-

- Reflecting the views of all the community
- Identifying features and characteristics that are valued locally
- Identifying local problems and local opportunities
- Preparing a plan of action to achieve its vision

In February 2004, a Parish Plan was published by Todwick Parish Council after a comprehensive exercise involving a consultancy company. That Plan was created after extensive public consultation with the whole village which included events to gauge people's opinions together with the distribution and analysis of a survey.

The 19 actions arising in the 2004 Plan ranged from short to long-term timescales with both minor and major revenue and capital expenditure requirements. An example of where the Parish Plan played a significant role was the major success for the village in 2007 in being able to officially re-open a totally refurbished and rebuilt Village Hall. With a successful application and awarding of a grant for over £247,000 from the then Yorkshire Rural Community Council (now Rural Action Yorkshire), the Parish Council and Village Hall Management Committee were able to self-fund the remaining monies required to complete the project at a total cost of £330,000. The Parish Plan brought together the views and demand requirements of local villagers which was an essential aid to the grant application. Without the Plan it is doubtful that the grant application would have been successful.

Some seven years have now elapsed since the publication of the Plan. The Parish Council is committed to ensuring continuous improvement so as to maintain the strong community spirit and dialogue that exists with the aim of achieving maximum cohesion for those who live in Todwick. It is also acknowledged that the economic landscape has radically changed since the 2004 Plan. As such, commencing in 2010 the Parish Council embarked on a new round of consultation with its villagers to listen to and identify the issues/areas of concern and aspirations they have for the village in the coming years so as to produce an up-to-date Plan.

In carrying out its consultation as well as engaging with its villagers, the Parish Council engaged with relevant partner agencies (eg, Rotherham MBC; police, local school, user groups and businesses) to ensure full participation and co-operation wherever possible.

A Steering Group from TPC Members was set up, which worked alongside Amanda Kent (Rural Action Yorkshire) to prepare a questionnaire designed to find out what the community's views and needs are for the future development of the Parish. A questionnaire was delivered to every Parish household (780) and resulted in 251 (32%) completed returns (a decrease on the 2004 Plan which had 650 questionnaires distributed with 283 [43%] completed returns).

The emphasis on this new Plan was to get greater community involvement, giving ownership to all and also seeking their ownership in its implementation.

TODWICK'S BACKGROUND

Todwick's Past

Todwick was first recorded in the Domesday Book dated 1086, and the Todwick coat of arms has been deduced from a number of historic landowners.

Todwick Church - St Peter and St Paul - The Domesday Survey of 1086 records: 'In Tatewic... a Church is there and three acres of meadow'. This early 11th-century building of rubble red sandstone forms the nave of the present Church.

Todwick Parish Church

Its Old Buildings - A number of old buildings still exist in Todwick, for example, Todwick Manor Moated Site. The present Manor House is an entirely modern building. The old manor house, which stood NE of the present house (i.e. more or less in the centre of the island, as a rectangular block running east-west) is shown as an "antiquity" on older O.S. maps. It was demolished in 1951, and a level lawn now occupies the site. There seems to be some confusion as to whether this was the site of the original "Todwick Hall", mentioned in 1664 or not. The "Old Hall" at O.S. SK496848 is a 17th century building. The proximity of the Manor House site to the church suggests that this may be the earlier of the two sites. No other documentary references traced.

Todwick Hand Pump - There used to be a hand-pump located immediately to the north of No.44 Kiveton Lane. O.S. SK48SE. This was mid 19th century manufacture in cast iron. It had a cylindrical shaft with bolted flange at the base and 3 anulets, fluted barrel with decorative spout and cranked handle on the left, fluted cap with finial. The name plaque on the barrel inscribed "Appleby & Co/ Renishaw Ironworks, Nr Chesterfield" was a good example of a locally-produced pump apparently in its original location. Sadly this pump disappeared.

Todwick Milepost - late 19th century is a round headed sandstone pillar with a cast-iron rectangular plaque with raised lettering which reads "Sheffield/10/Worksop/" - the lower part of the plaque is buried beneath the pavement. Other mileposts on this route are now without their plaques. The milepost is located approximately 35 metres to the east of the entrance to Todwick Grange. O.S. SK48NE.

Todwick Road and Toll-Bar (circa 1900)

Todwick Road Names - Many of the roads and lanes have historic connections, e.g. de Houton Close named after the first Rector/ Vicar in 1232. Further examples can be found on Todwick's website www.todwick.org.uk.

Trysting Tree - to the memory of Robin Hood, situated in the small wood just off the left hand side of Kiveton Lane on the south exit of Todwick. The "venerable oak" was stated as "great trysting tree in the Hart-hill Walk" which was, in earlier times, a private road owned and maintained by the Dukes of Leeds, and now forms that part of Kiveton Lane between the Rectory glebe land and Kiveton. The trysting tree is, therefore, firmly placed at Todwick and at the site marked by the plaque.

Church School - was originally built in 1866 at a cost of £241. The building was achieved, in the main, by the efforts of the Revd. Henry Sandwick, then Rector of Todwick.

The Duke of Leeds gave the land, stone for the walls and a sum of £50. Revd. Sandwith's subscription and various payments amounted to about the same amount. Other subscriptions included £20 each from the National Society, Miss Stanhope, Miss Roberts, and Mr Charles Wright together with £35 each from Mr Lane Fox and Mr Garland. In addition, parishioners contributed smaller amounts together with their labour and cartage.

The school was just one room that contained two large cupboards with a fireplace and oven in-between them. A small platform stood in one corner. There were no inside toilets as there was no facility for piped water in the building. As a result earth closets were situated outside at the far end of the playground.

In 1909 a classroom was added at a cost of £303, which was defrayed by a voluntary rate, paid by every owner of rateable value in the Parish.

In 1922 the Duke of Leeds gave additional land (which had previously been leased) for the purpose of a school garden or site for a Parochial Hall. This was conveyed in the names of the Rector, Church Wardens and the Trustees of the School to the Sheffield Diocesan Trust and Board of Finance.

In the 1960s, due to the rapid expansion of the village, the school became so overcrowded it was forced to close. It was in 1968 that the school was given by the Church to the village to be used as a Village Hall.

Todwick Today

Todwick is located in South Yorkshire approximately 1.5 miles from the M1 motorway / A57 interchange (M1 Junction 31). The village is accessible from three main entrances - from the A57 down Goosecarr Lane, from the A57 junction with Kiveton Lane (Todwick crossroads which are traffic light controlled) at the Red Lion Hotel, or via Kiveton Lane approached from Kiveton Park village.

Todwick Church Hall

Although Todwick has been a village since at least 1060, it was not until the 1960s that the village started to expand when more homes and a new school were built. Now, in 2011, the population has grown to around 1,685 inhabitants living in approximately 780 dwellings.

Todwick is a pleasant, pastoral community with farming land on all sides. It serves as a dormitory to the many commuters who work in nearby towns and cities.

Transport is mainly by car, although there are some service buses available. The nearest railway stations are in Kiveton where there are two stations linking to the remaining parts of South Yorkshire and beyond.

ABOUT US

According to work undertaken by OCSI (Oxford Consultants for Social Inclusion) as commissioned by ACRE (Action with Communities in Rural England), at the time of writing their report in May 2010, Todwick had a population of 1,685. OCSI utilised statistics from the 2001 Census and the Office for National Statistics Output Area definitions of settlements to develop the Todwick Parish profile.

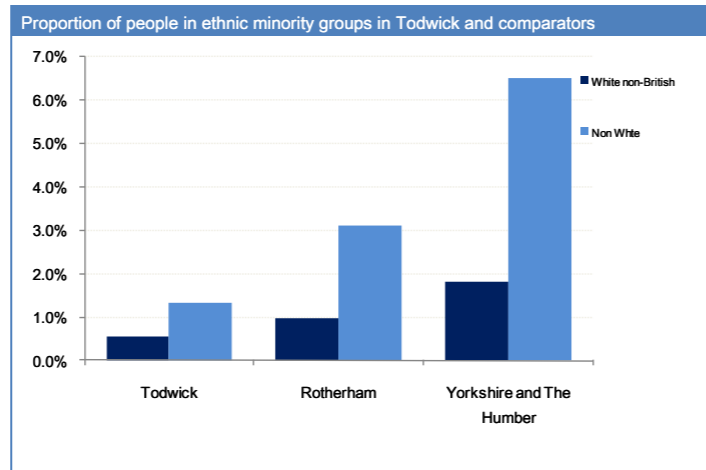

Source: OCSI Rural Action Yorkshire, May 2010

Todwick lies in Rotherham and has a population of 1685.

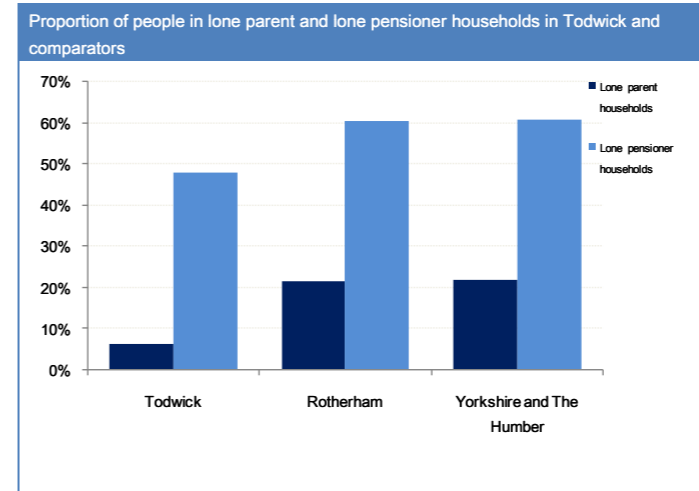

Of the total population, 260 (15.5%) are children, making up a smaller proportion of the population than across Rotherham (19.4%).

445 (26.3%) are people of pensionable age, making up a larger proportion of the population than across Rotherham (19.6%).

Source: OCSI Rural Action Yorkshire, May 2010

There are 10 lone parent households and 100 pensioners living alone in Todwick. 6.2% of households with dependent children are headed by a lone parent in Todwick, a smaller proportion of households than across Rotherham (21.5%). 48.1% of pensioner households are comprised of one pensioner living alone, a smaller proportion of households than across Rotherham.

Source: OCSI Rural Action Yorkshire, May 2010

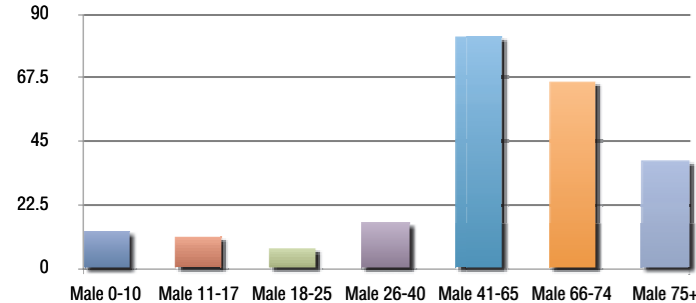

The ethnic profile shows that, in Todwick, the large majority is White British (98.1%).

In the consultation Questionnaire for this 2011 Parish Plan, replies to the following questions received from 251 completed returns on:

- Age structure for males and females in the Parish
- Years residents have lived in the Parish
- Number of motor vehicles owned per household in the Parish

revealed results as outlined on the graphs below:

The number of male members of respondents' households by age group

The number of female members of respondents' households by age group

How long have you lived in the parish?

How many motor vehicles does your household have?

COMMUNITY LIFE & COMMUNICATION

ADDITIONAL CONCERNS

This section asked the views of residents regarding any other issues which they believed were a cause for concern in the village.

Below are some of the comments you made:-

- “...shopping – butchers, bakery, greengrocers, fishmongers, supermarket...”
- “...I am a dog owner but there are too many irresponsible owners”
- “...parking on pavements...”
- “...just how derelict does a building have to get before the owner intervenes!!”
- “General lack of parental control of the children who roam the streets causing trouble, drinking, throwing eggs at houses and being abusive!”
- “...keep fit classes”
- “...lack of general children’s activities”
- “...more visible policing”
- “...access to the school swimming pool”

- “...speed cameras”
- “...Todwick Primary does not provide enough after school clubs”
- “Amenities in Todwick are insufficient ... no dentist, no village pub, no Post Office, no hairdressers”
- “...cars parked around school at opening and closing time”
- “I would like to see a Christmas tree on view in the village”
- “...an agreed action plan for villagers to help each other to clear paths, roads etc.”
- “...better repairs to footpaths”
- “...the police should clamp down very firmly on cars parked on pavements”
- “...Zebra crossing on The Pastures”
- “...a small supermarket, ie Tesco express/Sainsbury’s ... would be a major advantage”

Having read through the free text comments written by those who completed the questionnaire, the main areas of concern highlighted related to the need to:-

- Enhance Todwick’s identity/centre
- Enhance facilities for young people
- Pursue the status of the empty shop
- Pursue opportunities to increase the number of shopping facilities in the village

- Promote the use of the Mobile Library service afforded in the village
- Determine the possibility/feasibility of having a community re-cycling point
- Determine a snow clearance contingency plan for the village

As a result all of the above seven bullet points now feature as additional separate points on the action plan.

The Parish Plan will be circulated to the Local Authority and our partner agencies so as to register the representative wishes of the people who live in Todwick.

The Action Plan will now feature as a standing item on the Agenda of future Parish Council meetings so as to progress development of the actions this project has raised.

Todwick Parish Council wish to acknowledge and express their thanks to a number of people:-

- To the Head Teacher and staff at Todwick Primary School and, indeed the children themselves, who took part in producing the pictures which have been used for each chapter heading both in this report and in the questionnaire which was circulated around the village.
- To Richard Rattenbury and the Todwick Historical Society, who produced Todwick's coat of arms.

- To Sheila Pantry Associates for providing village history from the Todwick website.
- To the various photographers, especially to -
 John A Cuckson for Todwick's Past photos
 Bryan Ferris
 John Gabbitas
 John Palmer
 Brian White
- To OCSI (Oxford Consultants for Social Inclusion) as commissioned by ACRE (Action with Communities in Rural England) for their research of the Todwick profile.
- To HM Stationery Office and to Rotherham Metropolitan Borough Council for reproduction of O.S. Map of Todwick.
- To Full Point Associates (Printers) for their attention to detail and efficient service in printing this document.

Final thanks must go to Rural Action Yorkshire for their generosity in providing partial funding towards the completion of this project. In particular, to Amanda Kent at Rural Action Yorkshire, who has guided and supported the Steering Group throughout the process.
